

Think This Over

Next season, about this time of the year, the made-to-measure tailors will be showing what we are selling NOW.

And by the time local tailors have awakened to the value of Kuppenheimer fabrics—we'll be a lap ahead in showing something else.

This Live Store is the recognized headquarters for "what's what" in men's and young men's wear. Kuppenheimer Suits and Overcoats as low as $30 are but examples of the exceptional values to be found in our well known lines of quality merchandise.

YOUR suit is ready!

REAL ANTIDOTE FOR OLD AGE.

Pittsburg can lay claim to many things. It is now proudly proclaiming the fact that, in George Artberger, who is 67 years old, she has the oldest baseball player in the world.

He plays with the West View team. In a recent game he made three runs in the ninth inning the score was 9 to 1. Artberger came to bat. He laid down a pretty single, stole second and third and came home on a passed ball. In another game he got six hits. He plays first base. In sixty-one games this season this remarkable old man struck out but three times and made but two wild throws. He has good wind, covers lots of ground in the field and hits with amazing force. He ascribes his great vitality and overflowing health and spirits to the national game.

RIVER NEWS

The harbor towboat Hercules Carrel was launched at the Queen City Marine ways at Cincinnati Friday. The Kentucky will be taken out for repairs.

The Joe Fowler's expenses have been over $1,600 a week in the Pittsburgh and Louisville trade. She broke the record carrying passengers during the summer.

The Greene Line steamer Greenland was inspected at Cincinnati by United States Inspectors Dameron and Payton. The boat was reported in good condition.

Captain Burt Higgenbottom and Pilot Jimmy Wright will have charge of the new steamer Chris Greene, which will enter the Gallipolis-Charleston trade.

The A. R. Budd has received a new iron shaft from Delaney Forge & Iron Company, of Buffalo, N. Y. The boat nearly lost her tow when her shaft broke, the assistance of three towboats being necessary to land her.

The government towboat General Craigbill, which for the last month has been tied up in the mouth of the Big Sandy, due to boiler trouble, recently broke her shaft, and a few months ago she sank on a lock wall at Dam 28.

The big showboats Golden Rod and Cotton Blossom, owned by Captain Ralph E. Gaches, will winter in the mouth of the Great Kanawha river. During the show season the boats are towed by the Jewel and the Eclipse.

Steaming Fifty Years Ago.

Steamer Grey enters the Cincinnati and Portsmouth trade as a regular packet, in command of Captain A. N. Garland, with John McIntyre in charge of the office.

Big Sandy Packet Company charters the Pine Grove.

Captain W. J. Rusk purchases the steamer St. Cloud from Captain El-Hott for $15,000.

October 11, 1865. Steamer Peerless gets aground at Rising Sun bar and knocks her chimneys overboard. There is but forty-six inches of water over the bar. The Emma Floyd and St. Nicholas also had difficulty in getting over the bar.

October 1, 1865. Captain Dan Maratta takes command of the Cincinnati-Wheeling packet Pine Grove, and Captain Sharp Hemphill assumes charge of that packet's office.
